35. INTRODUCE BYE LAWS TO BAN INFLATABLE CRAFT

‘In light of the recent rescue by fisherman Gus O'Donovan and crew member Mathew Byrne of two men on an inflatable craft in Crosshaven, I want to bring to the attention of the Council the dangers of such craft on our shores. This is just one of several water related recent incidents that could have resulted in tragedy. In an article written for The Echo on August 5th of this year, Tom MacSweeney honours the role of Cork people in our maritime industry, and highlights the dangers of these inflatable craft. As mentioned in the article, I welcome the comment by chief executive of Water Safety Ireland, John Leech, in supporting a ban on inflatable craft, in order to prevent a tragic outcome in our waters. Referring to “supermarket inflatables”, Hugh Mockler, Deputy, Launch Authority at Crosshaven RNLI, where Gus has been a crew member, described these craft as “downright dangerous”. I therefore call on Cork City Council to introduce the necessary bye laws to ban the use of inflatable craft on our shores and beaches.’

36. PEDESTRIAN LIGHTS AT JUNCTION OF OLD YOUGHAL ROAD AND BANDUFF ROAD

‘I wish to bring to the attention of the Council, the dangers posed by traffic to the students of Scoil Cara in Banduff. The students of this school frequently cross Old Youghal Road, which is hazardous due to heavy traffic. This section of road from Tinker's Cross to Lotamore is very dangerous to pedestrians due to a lack of a pedestrian crossing. I therefore call on the Council for the urgent provision of pedestrian lights at the junction of Old Youghal Road and Banduff Road in order to facilitate the safe crossing for the pupils of Scoil Cara and residents of the area. As this is the second motion presented to the Council regarding this issue, I appeal for the Council to appreciate the urgency of this matter.’

Given that no commemorations or celebrations could take place in 2020 due to the Covid19 pandemic, the Freedom of the City could be a fitting tribute to honour these two men.’
