6. ASSESSMENT

6.1 Development

The first issue for consideration is whether or not the matter at hand is ‘development’.

‘Development’ as defined in the Act (3)(1) comprises two possible chief components: ‘the carrying out of any works on, in, over or under land’, or ‘the making of any material change in the use of any structures or other land’. In order to ascertain whether or not the subject use is considered to be development as so defined, consideration must first be given to whether any works on, in, over or under land have or will be carried out, and secondly to whether any material change in the use of any structures or other land have or will take place.

‘Works’ is defined in section 2(1) of the Act as ‘the carrying out of any works on, in, over, or under land’ including ‘any act or operation of construction, excavation, demolition, extension, alteration, repair or renewal, and in relation to a protected structure or proposed protected structure, includes any act or operation involving the application or removal of plaster, paint wallpaper, tiles or other material to or from the surfaces of the interior or exterior of a structure.’

I consider that the change of use and works in question constitute development.

6.2 Exempted development

The next issue for consideration is whether or not the matter at hand is exempted development. Following a review of the information provided I consider that the question to be answered includes two main elements, firstly the insertion of a velux window in the roof to the front of the property and, secondly, the change of use of the garage to a habitable room and construction of a rear extension.

These will be discussed separately.

Regarding the placement of a velux in the roof to the front of the house I note that there is no specific exemption that explicitly allows rooflights to be erected. It may however be considered exempt under the general provision set out in section 4(1)(h) of the Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended).

The test for the applicability of this exemption is limited only to works that affect only the interior of the structure or which do not materially affect the external appearance of the structure so as to render the appearance inconsistent with the character of the structure or of neighbouring structures.

I consider that, in this instance, the roof light / velux, does not impact upon the appearance of this dwelling, or adjoining homes, so as to alter their character. Accordingly I conclude that the front velux window is exempted development.

The rear extension and the conversion of the garage are potentially exempted development if they accord with the conditions and limitations set out in Class 1 which provides for:

The extension of a house, by the construction or erection of an extension (including a conservatory) to the rear of the house or by the conversion for use as part of the house of any garage, store, shed or other similar structure attached to the rear or to the side of the house.

I note that the garage does not appear to be part of the original structure and therefore was constructed as an extension. The matter of its conversion to habitable use can only be considered if the structure itself either has permission or was erected under exempted development provision.

There is no planning history associated with the house. No timeframe is set out for when the garage was constructed. The construction of a garage is exempted development if it accords with the conditions and limitations set out in Class 3 which provides for:

The construction, erection or placing within the curtilage of a house of any tent, awning, shade or other object, greenhouse, garage, store, shed or other similar structure.

The following is a review of the garage construction against the conditions / limitations set out in Class 3.

|--|---|
| 1. No such structure shall be constructed, erected or placed forward of the front wall of a house. | The garage is not forward of the front wall of the house |
| 2. The total area of such structures constructed, erected or placed within the curtilage of a house shall not, taken together with any other such structures previously constructed, erected or placed within the said curtilage, exceed 25 square metres. | There do not appear to be any additional structures within the curtilage of the house. |
| 3. The construction, erection or placing within the curtilage of a house of any such structure shall not reduce the amount of private open space reserved exclusively for the use of the occupants of the house to the rear or to the side of the house to less than 25 square metres. | The remaining garden area is in excess of 25m ² . |
| 4. The external finishes of any garage or other structure constructed, erected or placed to the side of a house, and the roof covering where any such structure has a tiled or slated roof, shall conform with those of the house. | No details of the materials have been provided. Google street view (June 2009) indicates that the material finish of the garage is pebble dash. It appears to accord with the front façade of the house. The roof is not tiled or slated. |
| 5. The height of any such structure shall not exceed, in the case of a building with a tiled or slated pitched roof, 4 metres or, in any other case, 3 metres. | The garage accords with this limitation. |
| 6. The structure shall not be used for human habitation or for the keeping of pigs, poultry, pigeons, ponies or horses, or for any other purpose other than a purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the house as such. | This was built as a garage and later converted. |

It appears that the garage when constructed would have been in accordance with this exemption.

The following is a review of the rear extension and garage conversion to habitable use elements of the proposal against the conditions / limitations set out in Class 1.

| 1. (a) Where the house has not been extended previously, the floor area of any such extension shall not exceed 40 square metres. (b) Subject to paragraph (a), where the house is terraced or semi-detached, the floor area of any extension above ground level shall not exceed 12 square metres. (c) Subject to paragraph (a), where the house is detached, the floor area of any extension above ground level shall not exceed 20 square metres. | (a) Total new extension will be less than 40sq.m The application states that the garage conversion is 23m² whilst the extension is 22m². A review of the dimensioned plans, submitted with the application, however indicates that the garage measures 9120 x 2630 which is 23.9856m² and the kitchen is 5640x3030 which is 17.0892m². The floor area to be retained exceeds the 40m² limit set out here and therefore this limitation is not met. (b) n/a (c) n/a |
| 2. (a) Where the house has been extended previously, the floor area of any such extension, taken together with the floor area of any previous extension or extensions constructed or erected after 1 October 1964, including those for which planning permission has been obtained, shall not exceed 40 square metres. (b) Subject to paragraph (a), where the house is terraced or semi-detached and has been extended previously, the floor area of any extension above ground level taken together with the floor area of any previous extension or extensions above ground level constructed or erected after 1 October 1964, including those for which planning permission has been obtained, shall not exceed 12 square metres. (c) Subject to paragraph (a), where the house is detached and has been extended previously, the floor area of any extension above ground level, taken together with the floor area of any previous extension or extensions above ground level constructed or erected after 1 October 1964, | N/A – as there are no other extensions |

|---|--|
| including those for which planning permission has been obtained, shall not exceed 20 square metres. | |
| 3. Any above ground floor extension shall be a distance of not less than 2 metres from any party boundary. | N/A – as there are no aboveground extensions. |
| 4. (a) Where the rear wall of the house does not include a gable, the height of the walls of any such extension shall not exceed the height of the rear wall of the house. (b) Where the rear wall of the house includes a gable, the height of the walls of any such extension shall not exceed the height of the side walls of the house. (c) The height of the highest part of the roof of any such extension shall not exceed, in the case of a flat roofed extension, the height of the eaves or parapet, as may be appropriate, or, in any other case, shall not exceed the height of the highest part of the roof of the dwelling. | (a) The single storey extension will not exceed the height of the rear wall of the house (b) n/a (c) The height does not exceed the height of the eaves or parapet |
| 5. The construction or erection of any such extension to the rear of the house shall not reduce the area of private open space, reserved exclusively for the use of the occupants of the house, to the rear of the house to less than 25 square metres. | The private open space to the rear of the property is over 25m ² . |
| 6. (a) Any window proposed at ground level in any such extension shall not be less than 1 metre from the boundary it faces. (b) Any window proposed above ground level in any such extension shall not be less than 11 metres from the boundary it faces. (c) Where the house is detached and the floor area of the extension above ground level exceeds 12 square metres, any window proposed at above ground level shall not be less than 11 metres from the boundary it faces. | (a) The plans provided do not show any windows in the kitchen. (b) n/a (c) n/a |
| 7. The roof of any extension shall not be used as a balcony or roof garden. | The flat roof does not appear to be accessible. |

Cumulatively the change of use of garage and rear extensions exceed 40m² and therefore these aspects of the Section 5 application are not exempted development.

7. ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT

7.1 Screening for Environmental Impact Assessment

Having regard to the contents of Article 103 (as amended by Article 14 of the Planning and Development (Amendment) (No 3) Regulations 2011) and Schedule 7 of the Planning and Development Regulations 2001 (as amended) it is considered that the development by reason of its nature, scale and location would not be likely to have significant effects on the environment. Accordingly, it is considered that an environmental impact statement is not required to be submitted.

7.2 Screening for Appropriate Assessment

Section 177U (9) of the Act requires planning authorities to screen applications for a section 5 declaration for appropriate assessment. The provisions of the Habitats Directive, the Appropriate Assessment Guidelines for Planning Authorities 2009 (revised 2010) and the Act are noted. The relevant European sites are the Cork Harbour SPA (site code 004030) and the Great Island Channel cSAC (site code 001058). Having regard to the location of the development site relative to these European sites and related watercourses and to the nature and scale of the development it is considered that the development would not affect the integrity of the European sites referred to above. Accordingly, it is considered that appropriate assessment is not required.

8. RECOMMENDATION

In view of the above and having regard to —

- Sections 2, 3 and 4 of the Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended), and

- Articles 6, and 9 of the Planning and Development Regulations 2001 (as amended)

It is considered that the –

Conversion of ground floor garage to bedroom, utility & bathroom and rear kitchen extension

Are development and are not exempted development as the plans provided show that the cumulative floor area exceeds 40m² and hence do not meet the conditions and limitations as set out under Class 1 and in Schedule 2, Part 1 of the Planning and Development Regulations 2001 (as amended)

Further that the front velux window

Is development and is exempted development in accordance with section 4(i)(h) of the Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended)
